OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

Executive Mansion, Washington, 8:30 a. m.—The President slept the greater part of the night although he had taken no morphia during the last twenty-four hours. His improved condition warranted several days ago a diminution in the quantity of morphia administered hypodermically at bed time and it was reduced at first to one-twelfth and afterwards to one-sixteenth of a grain in twenty-four hours without any consequent unpleasant result and finally it has been altogether dispensed with. His condition this morning exhibits continued improvement and another good day is anticipated. At present his pulse is 88, temperature 98.4, respiration 18.

Signed, D. W. BLISS, J. K. BARNES, J. J. WOODWARD, ROBERT REYBURN, FRANK HAMILTON.

Washington, 1 p. m.—The President continues to make slow but steady progress for recovery. He ate about the usual quantity of breakfast this forenoon consisting of beefsteak, potatoes, toast and milk and has up to this hour rested quietly and comfortably. His pulse is not high and he is entirely free from fever.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

Executive Mansion, 7 p. m.—The President has passed another good day. The appearance of the wound and character and amount of discharge of pus continues satisfactory. He has taken an adequate quantity of nourishment, and has had several pleasant naps during the day. At 12:30 p. m. his pulse was 98, temperature 98.4, respiration 13. After 4 p. m. his temperature began to rise as usual, but to a moderate degree and without perceptible dryness of skin. At present his pulse is 102, temperature 100.4, respiration 19.

Signed, D. W. BLISS, J. K. BARNES, J. J. WOODWARD, ROBERT REYBURN, FRANK HAMILTON.

The D. & R. G. Pushes On.

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 5.—The opening of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad to Durango, 450 miles from Denver, in southwestern Colorado, was celebrated there to-day. This is the completion of one of the several extensions of that road now being constructed in this State. The extension just finished is two hundred miles long, beginning at Alamosa, on the Rio Grande River, and terminating in the Animas Valley. In this valley are immense coal deposits, one hundred miles wide. It is also the natural southern outlet for the rich mining district of San Juan, which has been but little developed, owing to the want of proper transportation facilities. Other extensions will tap the San Juan on the east and north, a region covering the area of the State of Massachusetts, and intersected by various mountain ranges and traversed by many rivers. At present 5,000 men are employed on these extensions, and about three miles of track are laid daily.

In April, 1880, 333 miles of road were operated. On the first of this month 895 miles were in operation, so that during the last sixteen months 458 miles of road have been completed. These roads are being built in a mountainous country, and will tap sections of the State rich in mineral resources. Eight hundred and fifty miles more of road are now under contract and construction and is being pushed as far as the Utah border. The extension to Gunnison City will be completed on Monday next. The other extensions to mining camps are being pushed forward to completion before the early snows, and the increase of miles of road operated and the great development of the industries of the State have caused a great increase in its earnings. In 1880 the gross earnings for the seven months ending July 31st, were $14,396,040; for the same time in 1881 they were $31,040,428.72. The net earnings for the first six months in 1880 were $520,218.53, and for the same time this year, $1,173,830.65.

Covelo Consumed.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—The principal part of the small town of Covelo in Round Valley, burnt last night. The fire originated from the overturning of a lamp. The loss aggregated over fifty thousand dollars, mainly on business property. Partly insured.

Hung at Last.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Nathan Orlando Greenfield was executed this morning for the murder of his wife, Alice, at Orwell, Oswego County, October 15. The case was remarkable for a stubborn contest in the courts. On three trials the jury disagreed, and twice the finding was guilty. There were three death sentences and five stays and reprieves on the sixth. To-day the formal execution took place, five years and nine months after the crime was committed. After so many escapes from the gallows, Greenfield was confident he would not be hanged, and gave up the hope of commutation only under the gallows.

The execution took place in the jail in the presence of two hundred persons, official witnesses and press representatives. The prisoner was cool and unconcerned. Being asked if he had anything to say, he replied, "nothing." The trap sprang at 11 o'clock. As the prisoner's brother insisted on standing by him to the last, declaring him innocent. This the Sheriff refused to allow, as unlawful.

Greenfield had an affecting interview with his brother and cousin this morning, and assured them that he was innocent and ready to die. The chaplain implored him to confess. He protested innocence, and fervently prayed for mercy upon himself and his enemies, who perjured themselves on his trials. He went calmly and unflinchingly to the scaffold. The Sheriff asked if he had any confession to make, and he said: "I have none. As Christ is good, it is true that I am innocent!"

George Gorham's Delusion.

New York, Aug. 5.—The Tribune thinks George C. Gorham is still laboring under a delusion. He is continuing as a candidate of the Republican Senators for Secretary of the Senate. The Washington newspaper of which he is supposed to be editor spoke of him a day or two ago as "The present candidate for the position," and adds that his election was only deferred through the extra session of the Senate last Spring. If Gorham is anything except a conscientious adventurer, which may perhaps be doubted, he is an anti-administration man. That of itself ought to and no doubt will settle the business. We observe in Republican newspapers a mild but determined objection to Gorham's attempt to load himself again upon the party.

From the Lord's Vineyard to the Insurance Business.

THERE WERE TWO OF 'EM.

New York, Aug. 5.—The Sun says: Rev. Dr. Stephen H. Tyng and Rev. Jno. O. Bache, his assistant in the Church of Holy Trinity, went from the ministry into the life insurance business. Tyng is now resident director in Paris, of the equitable, and Bache is general agent of the same company, having an office at No. 83 Liberty street.

A CO-PARTNERSHIP.

Tyng and Bache have also formed a partnership of their own under the title of John O. Bache & Co. When Tyng went to Paris, June 1st, he left with Bache a young man, R. P. Cooper, as clerk.

THEIR NICE YOUNG MAN.

Cooper is 28 years of age, and has extremely pleasing address. His first venture was to borrow thirty dollars ostensibly to attend his mother's funeral, but really to go on a lark to Coney Island. Cooper had been given the keys to Tyng's apartments in Florence Flats, Fourth avenue. He would occasionally open and air them. He did more. He made them a delightful place for the entertainment of his friends, whom he entertained in a sumptuous manner among the doctor's beautiful household goods. Among a variety of similar adventures the young man was dismissed. He has not yet been arrested.

The Mail Bag Racket.

New York, Aug. 5.—The Times, noting certain comments of the Canada postoffice authorities on the mail bag controversy, says: "They appear to mean that an artificial scarcity of mail bags in the United States was created for the benefit of certain favorite contractors, and that employees of our post-offices were only too ready to encourage their needy brethren on the other side of the border in using property which does not belong to them. There seems to be room here for further investigation."

Peoria Pickings.

INFERNAL MACHINE CROWD.

Peoria, Aug. 5.—P. W. Crowe, of infernal machine notoriety, is about to enter the lecture field. His subject will be "What I know about infernal machines." He still insists that the machines sent to Liverpool were manufactured here.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Fourteen deaths from the explosion at Woolner's distillery have thus far occurred. The remaining four victims are doing well.

Convicts' Break for Liberty.

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—A falsom dispatch says: Yesterday five convicts at the branch prison, named George Lupton, George Walker, Bob Durken, John Cooney and James Gordon made a break for liberty. They knocked down the guard and ran for the river. The officers and guards pursued them. Durken was wounded in the leg and captured; Walker was shot dead; Cooney was captured, being afraid to attempt to cross the river; Lupton tried to cross, but was drowned and Gordon was not accounted for.

Prohibition Prohibited.

Raleigh, Aug. 5.—Seventeen counties give a majority of 21,748 against prohibition. The other counties will probably make it 60,000 to 70,000. The whites are divided and the negroes are solidly opposed to the measure.

From Across the Waters.

OBSTRUCTIONISTS.

London, Aug. 5.—In view of the avowed determination of a few Parnellites to obstruct the business of the Commons, the views of the opposition have been ascertained in regard to the urgency for supply. The result of the inquiry encouraged the government to believe if this step is necessary the opposition will cordially co-operate.

QUESTION OF RELEASING PRISONERS.

It is believed the question of releasing some of the prisoners in Kilmanham jail will be deliberated upon at an early cabinet council.

COMMISSION OF INQUIRY.

It is stated that a deputation of prominent conservatives is about to go to Ireland to inquire into and report upon the relief condition of laborers living respectively under and working for resident and non-resident landlords and farmers. The object of the deputation is to form a basis of its report for legislation upon the labor question.

A GENERAL STRIKE.

Cork, Aug. 5.—The laborers strike everywhere, extending to Queenstown, Malrow and the different centres of labor. All laboring men joined the movement. The strike is a general agitation for increase of wages. Employers are stubborn.

BRADLAUGH.

London, Aug. 5.—Bradlaugh did not appear at Westminster to-day. He appeared at Bowstreet police court and presented information upon which he demanded a summons against the police for assault, in which demand he simply alleged that an assault had been committed on him. The magistrate said this was insufficient, that Bradlaugh appeared to have invited assault, that he should have refused the summons if all the facts were before him, and certainly should on what appeared in the information. Bradlaugh intends to proceed further.

PAIRNELL PELTS 'EM.

In the commons last night, on going into committee on supply, Parnell brought under review the suspension of O'Kelly. Homerule, some weeks ago for characterizing the statement of Tottenham, conservative, as lying and calumnious. Parnell argued that the standing under which O'Kelly had been suspended was intended only to check the persistent obstruction and not to punish the hasty use of language, and he blamed the speaker for not giving him an opportunity of withdrawing the language he used on the first instant, when he was suspended by a vote of the House for persisting, in spite of the speaker's ruling, in raising the question of Irish political prisoners.

GLADSTONE ANSWERS.

Gladstone commented warmly on the liberty assumed by Parnell of appealing to the rules of the House one night and insulting them the next, and severely censured him for introducing the subject at a time when it was impossible for the House to pronounce judgment. Considering that O'Kelly had used the words immediately after O'Connor had been called to order for using the word "mendacious," he thought the charge against the speaker entirely false.

THE U. S. WILL PROSECUTE THE MAKERS OF INFERNAL MACHINES.

In the Commons to-day the Home Secretary read a dispatch from the United States to Minister Lowell informing Earl Granville that he had wired Secretary Blaine on the 29th July an account of a conversation he had with Tennent, Under Foreign Secretary, respecting the infernal machines at Liverpool, and to which he had received a reply from Blaine stating that the National, State and municipal authorities are strenuously endeavoring to discover the authors of the plot in which he had reason to believe very few were engaged, and that no pains will be spared in discovering and prosecuting them.

A Heathen Chinese Thief.

New York, Aug. 5.—The World says regarding the arrest of Sam Shing, a Chinese merchant who is accused of having stolen several thousand dollars worth of goods from R. Isaac & Co., importers of Chinese and Japanese goods, on Broadway, that he has stores in Philadelphia, Charleston, Atlantic City, N. J., Washington and San Francisco. It is said that Shing is wealthy. He has been only five years in this country.

Warm Wisconsin Weather.

Milwaukee, Aug. 5.—This is the warmest known day in the history of Milwaukee. A fireman in the streets of the city of Milwaukee died from the effects of the "specials" to the Republic from the interior of the State report a number of fatal cases of sunstroke, and very many cases of prostration, which will probably prove fatal; also four cases of drowning.

Rejoicing Over the President's Improvement.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—A Nevada City dispatch says: The improvement in the condition of the President was celebrated to-day by a military parade and drill. Governor Perkins with a party were present. Civic exercises had been contemplated but were not carried out.

An Accommodating Mexican Judge.

Bassilio Luna was condemned to death, having been sent to the judge at San Felipe Torrenache for sentence. The culprit asked for privilege to speak, and he said as he had to suffer for his crime he begged the briefest time. "The judge gave him answer, saying: 'As he asks for it, execute him immediately,' and in twenty minutes afterward he was shot.—La Patria, City of Mexico.

It is estimated that $100,000 can be profitably expended during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1885, on the San Joaquin River, and that much more will be spent in California river and harbor improvements during that year.

Mackey's Start.

I remember an old friend of mine, a 49-er, once telling me about the Mackeys, and how they got their start in life; which led to such great results. Mackey used to keep a small saloon, and dealt with the commonest kind of customers, and my friend would frequently see Mackey's wife about the place. She was very plainly dressed in those days, a common gingham was good enough; and as for diamonds! why, you might as well talk of buying the moon in those days, and it was sometimes hard lines to make both ends meet. But the mining excitement came, and Mackey was lucky enough to be able to make a little venture with Flood, O'Brien, and some others, who afterward struck it rich. He is now worth, they say, $30,000,000 to $40,000,000, and his wife, at a recent entertainment abroad, literally blazed with diamonds. I suppose when she comes here she will lead the fashion in New York society. Sometimes, in the pauses of all this extravagant frivolity, however, she no doubt finds a moment or two to think of the time when, in her simple gingham, she used to help her husband serve the customers at the little bar in the far west.

Respiration Affected by Altitude.

M. Marcet, whose experiments with reference to respiration on the Alps are well known, has made similar observations at various altitudes on the Peak of Teneriffe respectively 7,000, 10,700 and 12,200 feet above the level of the sea. Among the results noted, it appeared that the carbonic acid expired is, under all circumstances, proportional to the weight of the body, the amount being greatest during the first or second hour after eating, then gradually diminishing; the amount of carbonic acid expired was greater at Teneriffe than on the Alps, the increase in the latter case being probably due to reduced temperature—in the other case, however, 17 per cent. more carbonic acid was expired at the sea level than on the Peak of Teneriffe, this being due to increased perspiration at the higher altitudes; the volume of air expired per minute, and also the number of respirations, decreased at the higher elevation.
